

New! Superline's® Saturnus and Milkyway with optional advertising space

This multifunctional planter invites being looked at and lets you sit down next to it. This piece of seating furniture with an integrated plant container is also now available with various kinds of advertising space.

Advertising space in the seating surfaces, for example (S5)

An outdated advertising message can be replaced with a new one by the customer himself by means of a Plexiglas sheet which is 5 mm thick and is attached by means of 4 sunken screws. This material is reasonably resistant to scratches; any scratching that might occur can be retouched. We recommend not caulking this; the sheets will then remain easy to remove in order to clean them and to replace the advertising messages.

Triangular or circular advertising display (S6)

The advertising message for this option is communicated by 3 boards measuring 900 x 700 mm which create a triangle, or by 4 boards measuring 900 x 650 mm which create a circle resting on top of the Saturnus. In this case, a protective sheet of plastic is unnecessary.

Advertising on the back of the seating (Milkyway)

This bench uses a plant container as the back of the seating. This surface can then be used as the basis for an advertising message.

The standard seating surface for the planters is beech but this surface is also available at extra cost in oak or jatoba. The stainless steel can be nicely maintained by using Superline's® stainless steel cleaner.
